It's a beer hall/performance space that is the hippest ticket in town. I went to see Absinthe but they are also hosting a PS 122 performance series. The best part is you can hang out on the piers with spectacular views. It's way cool. I even did an Art Dirt Redux about it. http://spaghetti.nujus.net/artDirt/archives/000904.html August 24th there will be a duplex sound art performance at 11 Harrison Street at the ground floor gallery & studio space. This is the Locus Sonus performance for the DIGIT festival. It will be occurring on the Roebling Bridge across the Delaware River and simultaneously at 11 Harrison Street in Manhattan (6 pm to 10pm). It's free and there are refreshments at the Manhattan location. DIGIT opens this Saturday August 19th at the DVAA (37 main street, Narrowsburg, NY 12764)Locus Sonus,[PAM] Perpetual Art Machine, & Hans Christophe-Steiner . I am very pleased to announce that I will also be premiering a series of High Definition videos done in collaboration with Brian Caiazza called HD_RANTS. These will be on view at the DVAA and will be shown on the large screen on August 24th at 2pm as part of the best of DIGIT program at the Calicoon Cinema. Brian Caiazza is the very talented artist who is also hosting the August 24th event in Manhattan at his studio at 11 Harrison Street.	[PAM] INFO ! perpetually beta... PLEASE REGISTER !
